Your rights under the Australian Consumer Law

Our goods come with guarantees that cannot be excluded under the Australian Consumer Law. You are entitled to a replacement or refund for a major failure and compensation for any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage. You are also entitled to have the goods repaired or replaced if the goods fail to be of acceptable quality and the failure does not amount to a major failure.

This document should not be read as excluding, restricting or modifying your rights and remedies under the Australian Consumer Law (ACL).

In addition to the rights that are available to consumers under the ACL, Volkswagen Group Australia guarantees that within the relevant warranty periods any part or component of your vehicle that is found to have a defect from manufacture in materials or workmanship will be repaired, replaced or adjusted by an authorised Volkswagen Dealer free of charge (for current dealers and locations please refer to <https://au.volkswagen.com.au/find-dealer/>).

The benefits to a consumer given by these warranties are in addition to the other rights and remedies of the consumer under a law in relation to the goods and services to which the warranties relate. A consumer's rights under applicable law prevail to the extent of any inconsistency between these Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty Terms and Conditions and the law.

Warranty information

The replacement of Volkswagen parts may at times include the use of Volkswagen parts or Volkswagen exchange parts (factory-remanufactured parts) depending on the type of repair and availability of Volkswagen parts. [All Volkswagen exchange parts have the same coverage under the Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty as new Volkswagen parts.

Any claim in relation to a warranty set out in the Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty Terms and Conditions should be referred to an authorised Volkswagen Dealer. In order to claim under these warranties, a consumer must, at its own cost, present the vehicle to an authorised Volkswagen Dealer together with the vehicle logbook and collect the vehicle at their expense once notified by the Volkswagen Dealer that the vehicle is ready for collection. A list of all authorised Volkswagen Dealers and their location and contact details may be found at <https://au.volkswagen.com.au/find-dealer/>.

The servicing or repair of your vehicle by third parties that are not authorised Volkswagen Dealers will not void your warranties, however, to the extent that any problem arises due to any third party servicing or repairs, Volkswagen Group Australia reserves the right to request additional information about the work and servicing performed on your vehicle and we will not be liable for failures caused by third parties that are not authorised Volkswagen Dealers.

Volkswagen Group Australia may cancel all or a portion of a reimbursement given to you under the Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty Terms and Conditions if the supporting documents that you have provided are insufficient or inadequate or do not match the information provided at the time of repair.

Warranty periods

Your vehicle comes with a Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty and commences when the New Vehicle Warranty expires or on the Das WeltAuto certified sale date reported in Volkswagen Group Australia's systems, whichever occurs later.

The Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty is in addition to other rights and remedies which you have at law, including under the ACL. Your rights under the ACL are not affected by the expiry of any contractual warranty, including the Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty.

Where to have warranty repairs carried out

When a warranty repair is required under the Das WeltAuto Limited Warranty, it is the responsibility of the owner of the vehicle (or the owner's agent) to report the defect to an authorised Volkswagen Dealer (for current dealers and locations please refer to <https://au.volkswagen.com.au/find-dealer/>).

All authorised Volkswagen Dealers are able to carry out warranty repairs on all Volkswagen vehicles. All warranty defects must be reported to an authorised Volkswagen Dealer as soon as possible and within a suitable timeframe.

This does not affect any rights that you may have under the ACL to have your vehicle repaired.
