Heritage Collection bags made out of recycled polyester

Sustainability is a top priority for us. That's why the bags in our Heritage Collection are produced from recycled PET, recovered for example from discarded disposable drinking bottles.

In comparison with conventionally produced polyester, several energy-intensive steps in the processing operation can be skipped in the production of RPET (Recycled Polyethylene Terephthalate). This not only saves energy and water, but also reduces carbon emissions. In addition, no new oil has to be processed into polymers and landfill usage is reduced. And: RPET is also an extremely robust material.

GTI Collection Coordinates

When a car celebrates marriage, it represents a significant milestone, just like in human life. At this moment, running gear and engine are joined with the body.

We celebrate this event with our GTI Collection. That's why you will find the coordinates 52° 26' 20.796"N 10° 46' 26.205"E and therefore the location where the vehicles become a unit on the products.

Fact check Good to know!

Heritage Collection Organic Cotton

We use organic cotton for the shirts, dress shirt and neck scarves in our Heritage Collection. In contrast to conventional cotton, synthetic plant protection agents and fertilisers are not used in the cultivation of organic cotton. In addition, less water and energy is consumed, CO₂ emissions are reduced and less damage is caused to the environment.
